Camouflage Markings 3 The Israeli

Camouflage is the use of any combination of materials, coloration, or illumination for concealment, either by making animals or objects hard to see, or by disguising them as something else. Examples include the leopard's spotted coat, the battledress of a modern soldier, and the leaf-mimic katydid's wings. A third approach, motion dazzle, confuses the observer with a conspicuous pattern ...

Why do military projectiles have these markings? 1.) So that vehicle crews can easily identify them by type when they are stowed in a combat vehicle, as this photo indicates: Stowed 155mm Artillery Shells in an Israeli Defense Forces AFV. 2.) For general EOD/safety purposes; so that precautions can be taken for that specific type of shell.
